

Withdrawals and Return of Title IV Funds

It is the policy of Columbia Gorge Community College to determine the amount of earned and unearned portions of Title IV aid as of the date the student ceases attendance in accordance with federal regulations and the Return of Title IV Funds process as dictated in the Student Aid Handbook. This policy applies to all students receiving Title IV funds who do a complete withdrawal on or before the 60% date of each term. For students who completely withdraw after the 60% date, CGCC will still need to determine if they're eligible for a post-withdrawal disbursement according to federal regulations and the Student Aid Handbook.

Title IV Refunds

Federal regulations require the college to have a fair and equitable refund policy for students receiving financial aid who officially or unofficially withdraw from all classes. See CGCC's Refund Policy available at www.cgcc.edu/tuition for more information. Withdrawing or stopping attendance may result in financial debt for the student and may also make the student ineligible for future financial aid, including loans. We strongly urge students to consult with an academic advisor and/or financial aid staff to help them with decisions about withdrawing.

Financial Consequences of Withdrawing or Not Passing Classes

Federal regulations assume that students "earn" federal financial aid over the course of a term by attending and participating in classes. Students cannot earn all of the funds unless they maintain attendance and class participation for more than 60% of the term. This calculation counts all calendar days, including the first and last days of the term, weekends, and holidays. For students who completely withdraw and have received all W, NP, F, or I grades before 60% point in the term, they may have to repay any financial aid, including all Title IV aid funds already disbursed.

In general, federal regulations assume that students "earn" federal financial aid in direct proportion to the percentage of the term they complete. If students completely withdraw during a term, the College calculates, according to a federally-mandated formula, the portion of the total scheduled financial assistance earned, and therefore entitled to receive, up to the time of withdrawal. If the student or college receives more assistance than is earned, the unearned excess funds must be returned to the US Department of Education. On the other hand, if less financial assistance is received than the amount earned, additional funds may first be applied toward outstanding institutional charges and any excess paid to the student.

The portion of the Federal student aid the student is entitled to receive is calculated on a percentage basis by comparing the total number of days in the term to the number of days completed before withdrawing. For example, if 30% of the term is completed, the student earns 30% of the assistance scheduled to be received.

If a withdrawal occurs after the 60% date, the student will have earned all of the financial aid received and no Return of Title IV funds will be required.

If the student completely withdraws, earned aid will be calculated based on the percentage of the term completed, resulting in possible repayment of any unearned aid. Students are encouraged to search for resources to assist them in completing even one class, such as free tutoring to all students for math, science and writing and the PASS (Promoting Access to Student Success) Program.

Unearned financial aid will be applied and returned in the following order:

1. Federal Direct Unsubsidized Stafford Loan*
2. Federal Direct Subsidized Stafford Loan*
3. Federal Pell Grant
4. Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant
5. Iraq Afghanistan Service Grant
6. Other (excluding Federal Work Study)

*Student repayment according to the terms and conditions of the promissory note

No more than 50% of the amount received by the student

In most cases, financial aid students who completely withdraw are considered not to have made satisfactory academic progress toward program completion. A complete withdrawal will place the student in Disqualification status (if previously Good Standing or Probation status). The student will be placed on Probation if they appeal their Disqualification and their appeal is approved. If the Warning term's financial aid is for the same school year and is sufficient to cover that term's charges in addition to the repayment, CGCC may allow the repayment to be taken out of the Warning term's financial aid and may allow the student to register.

The student will be notified in writing showing that portion of unearned aid the school will refund from institutional costs and that portion the student will be responsible to repay.

The student will have 30 days from the date of the bill from CGCC to pay the full amount owed or make payment arrangements with the Business Office. If the student fails to pay the amount shown, or make arrangements for a payment plan, but does not make the payments as scheduled, the balance will be turned over to collections.

Withdrawal Date

The date the student officially withdraws from all credit courses, which may be different than last date of attendance.

Unofficial Withdrawal

When the student stops attending without officially withdrawing and receives a "W", "F", "NP" or "I" grade. At the end of each term, Financial Aid staff review last date of attendance records for students who did not officially withdraw. If this date is earlier than the official withdrawal date, it will be used in the Return of Title IV funds calculation.

Withdrawal Process

To withdraw from one or more classes, email studentservices@cgcc.edu with your request to withdraw from the class. Please include a reason for withdrawing from the class.
